JUMBUNNA EARLY CHILDHOOD INTERVENTION SERVICES

Jumbunna is the Early Childhood Intervention Service for the Richmond Valley and Kyogle Local Government Areas (LGAs).

Early Childhood Intervention (ECI) is the process of providing specialised support and services for infants and young children with developmental delays or disabilities, and their families in order to promote development, well-being and community participation.

Early Childhood Intervention Services (ECIS) support children with a disability or developmental delay from birth to school entry and their families. Jumbunna provides therapy, education, counselling, service planning and coordination, advocacy, transition to school and parenting support.

These services are tailored to meet the individual needs of the child and focused on supporting the child in their natural environments and in their everyday experiences and activities.

The overall aim of Jumbunna is to provide parents and families with the knowledge, skills and support to meet the needs of their child and to optimise the child's development and ability to participate meaningfully in family and community life. Jumbunna uses a family centred approach, recognising the family are the key people in their child's life and our need to work in partnership with them.

Why are the early years important?

The early childhood years lay the foundation for all future development. Recent research shows that early experiences literally shape our lives by affecting the way the young brain develops. What happens to us in the early years has a major effect on health and social development right through to adulthood. Therefore, we must ensure that children's early experiences are positive - that they have a secure foundation for development.

Why are early childhood intervention services important?

The early childhood years are just as important for children with disabilities and developmental delays as they are for all children. All their future development is based on the critical learning patterns laid down during this period.

The early years are also critical for the whole family. This is when families can best begin to learn how to support and nurture their child, how to meet their child's needs, and how to adapt positively to having a child with a disability or a developmental delay. To achieve these goals, families need the support of Early Childhood Intervention Services (Early Childhood Intervention Australia).

Jumbunna complies with the following NDIS Practice Standards:

- Core Module, and
- Module 3 – Early Childhood Supports.

NATIONAL DISABILITY INSURANCE SCHEME (NDIS)

The National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) is the system that individuals with a disability access support. These supports are individual to the participant, which is tailored to their goals, personal circumstances, and disability support needs.

What does the NDIS do?

The NDIS provides funding to eligible people based on their individual needs.

The NDIS provides reasonable and necessary funding to people with a permanent and significant disability to access the supports and services they need to live and enjoy their life.

Every NDIS participant has an individual plan that lists their goals and the funding they have received.

NDIS participants use their funding to purchase supports and services that will help them achieve their goals. Everyone has different goals but they could include things like getting and keeping a job, making friends or participating in a local community activity. NDIS participants control the support they receive, when they receive it, and who provides it.

The NDIS cannot fund a support that is:

- the responsibility of another government system or community service; or
- not related to a person's disability

What is the Early Childhood Early Intervention (ECEI) approach?

The ECEI approach supports children aged 0-6 years who have a developmental delay or disability and their families/carers. The ECEI approach supports families to help children develop the skills they need to take part in daily activities and achieve the best possible outcomes throughout their life.

The NDIS has engaged Early Childhood Partners around Australia to deliver the ECEI approach. Early Childhood Partners are experienced in providing early childhood intervention.

How does it work?

As every child is different, your Early Childhood Partner will tailor support to your child's individual needs and circumstances. Your Early Childhood Partner will provide you with information.

You can contact an Early Childhood Partner if concerns about your child's development have been identified.

Northcott is the Early Childhood Partner for this area.
Their number is: 1800 245 097.

JUMBUNNA EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION AND CARE SERVICES

Jumbunna Community Preschool and Early Intervention Inc. operates according to the current Australian Government early childhood initiatives and regulations. These are outlined below:

National Quality Framework

The National Quality Framework is an Australian Government initiative that aims to ensure quality and consistency in education and care services through:

- a national legislative framework
- a National Quality Standard
- a national quality rating and assessment process
- a new national body called the Australian Children's Education and Care Quality Authority

The National Quality Framework came into effect on 1 January 2012 with key requirements being phased in overtime. Requirements such as qualification, educator-to-child ratios and other key staffing arrangements are being phased in between 2012 and 2020.

National legislative framework

The national legislative framework consists of:

- the Education and Care Services National Law
- the Education and Care Services National Regulations

It creates a jointly governed uniform national approach to the regulation and quality assessment of education and care services across Australia. In NSW, Community Services is primarily responsible for administering the National Quality Framework, including approving, monitoring and quality assessing services.

National Quality Standard

The National Quality Standard (NQS) sets a new national benchmark for the quality of education and care services. The NQS is divided into seven Quality Areas:

- Educational program and practice
- Children's health and safety
- Physical environment
- Staffing arrangements
- Relationships with children
- Collaborative partnerships with families and communities
- Leadership and service management

National quality rating and assessment process

Approved Services will be assessed and rated against each of the seven Quality Areas of the National Quality Standard and the National Regulations. They will also be given an overall rating. The rating and assessment process aims to drive continuous quality improvement at services and provide families with better information for making choices about their children's education and care.

For more information, see the Department of Education, or the Australian Children's Education and Care Quality Authority.

JUMBUNNA EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION AND CARE SERVICES

The Australian Government has developed the Early Years Learning Framework to ensure your child receives quality education programs in their early childhood setting. This is a vital time for them to learn and develop.

The Framework's vision is for all children to experience play-based learning that is engaging and builds success for life.

We will use the EYLF in partnership with families, children's first and most influential educators, to develop learning programs responsive to children's ideas, interests, strengths and abilities, and recognise that children learn through their play.

The Early Years Learning Framework describes childhood as a time of belonging, being and becoming.

Belonging is the basis for living a fulfilling life. Children feel they belong because of the relationships they have with their family, community, culture and place.

Being is about living here and now. Childhood is a special time in life and children need time to just 'be'—time to play, try new things and have fun.

Becoming is about the learning and development that young children experience. Children start to form their sense of identity from an early age, which shapes the type of adult they will become.

Play is learning

Play is very important for children. Through play babies and young children explore and learn to understand the world around them as they come to communicate, discover, imagine and create.

When children play, they are showing what they have learned and what they are trying to understand. This is why play is one of the foundations of the Early Years Learning Framework.

By using the EYLF, we will guide your child's play by carefully designing learning activities and stimulating indoor and outdoor learning environments.

The EYLF has five broad outcomes:

- Children have a strong sense of identity
- Children are connected with and contribute to their world
- Children have a strong sense of wellbeing
- Children are confident and involved learners
- Children are effective communicators

When you view your child's portfolio, you will see reference to the EYLF included in observations of your child during their play.

JUMBUNNA PROGRAMS

REVERSE INTEGRATION PRESCHOOL

This is a community preschool program that has enrolments of children with and without additional needs. The program has a full preschool curriculum that is developed and adapted by the teaching staff to meet the individual needs of every child. Jumbunna implements the Early Years Learning Framework.

The preschool is able to operate a number of rooms, depending on the needs of the children at the time, and one is dedicated to our older children, most of whom are preparing for “Big School” next year. The children also work in several small groups for gross motor and language skills development.

There are daily timetables and programs available for parents to view and discuss with the staff. Each family has a key worker who works closely with the family to develop and implement their child’s program and services.

Jumbunna’s preschool program is very well developed and recognised, and any enquiries about curriculum, procedures, activities etc. are welcomed and encouraged.

For children in the Early Intervention Program, a structured Transition to School process is developed and implemented. This involves comprehensive testing, report writing, Early Learning Support Team meetings and assessment of the school environment for modifications if necessary. Follow up contact is made with the school in Term 1 in the following year.

REVERSE INTEGRATION PRESCHOOL HOURS:

Hours are: 8:30am — 4:00pm Monday to Friday.

All children must be picked up prior to 4.00pm as we are only licensed to have children within these hours.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Jumbunna has a policy and procedures manual which describes many of the functions of the centre and is available for parents to read. A USB containing all of our policies will be provided upon request.

It consists of policies developed by staff and families in conjunction with the various licensing regulations with which we must comply. It includes information on our curriculum and programs and how staff help your child to learn. The safety of all involved at the Centre is paramount and the Centre has procedures to cover these matters.

These policies are regularly reviewed by our Board, in consultation with staff and parents or carers. The Board welcomes any input you may have to change and adapt the policies to better serve our families.

FUNDRAISING

Jumbunna is not a fully government funded service, so we rely on other sources of income.

Fundraising helps us to meet some of the essential needs of the Centre, which helps to keep fees to a minimum. It is vital that ALL parents fully support our fundraising efforts. It is also a great way to get to know other families at our Centre.

Jumbunna is a registered Australian charity, and we gratefully accept donations, which, if over $2.00, are tax deductible.

Fundraising is one of the major responsibilities of the Management Committee.

THE MANAGEMENT BOARD

Jumbunna is run by a management board of parents and community members. There is an Annual General Meeting to elect this board. The board is assisted in all their duties by the General Manager and her staff. All parents are obligatory members of the Association. Parents are welcomed and encouraged to be involved on this committee. The staff have information on the roles of the various committee members and how you can help.

GENERAL INFORMATION

SETTLING IN

This is as individual as your child. Please feel free to stay with your child for a short time until they become familiar with the Centre, staff and surroundings. Sometimes it is best to leave quickly and return early to spend this time with your child at the Centre. Staff will advise you on this. Do not leave without warning as the child may then refuse to be left again. It is best to say goodbye and tell them you will be back even though it may be tearful — which is quite natural.

Staff will help you, sometimes it may take time for your child to settle in easily, but all soon enjoy their day here.

If you are worried, please call us. If there are problems, we will call you.

PLEASE LABEL ALL PERSONAL ITEMS, as lost items can be returned if we know who they belong to!

BIRTHDAYS

We are happy to celebrate birthdays please talk to our staff about this.
